

Title: Leaders & Lovers
Passage: I Thessalonians 5:1-15
March 9th, 2014

SERMON NOTES

Sermon Discussion Questions can be found at www.mosaicpokane.com/resources/sermons under the current sermon title.

Title: Leaders & Lovers
Passage: I Thessalonians 5:1-15
March 9th, 2014

SERMON NOTES

Sermon Discussion Questions can be found at www.mosaicpokane.com/resources/sermons under the current sermon title.

1. What has been your experience with spiritual leadership? What have been some of the best models you've seen of spiritual leadership? What made them great?

2. Looking at I Thessalonians 2:1-12, how many different qualities of good spiritual leaders can you identify? How many do you see evident in your own life? In the lives of the spiritual leaders in your life? What can you do to make those qualities more a part of your life this month?

3. We talked a bit about the spiritual practice of submission. If you were to enter into a month of focusing on practicing spiritual submission, what would look different? What would you need to change? To whom would you be in submission? How would that be evidenced?

4. Living at peace with others is a constant challenge. Are there any conflicted relationships in your life right now? What have you done to "be at peace" with those people? Look at Matthew 5:21-26, 18:15-17 & Philippians 4:2-3. What processes are we to follow in order to live at peace with people? What should we not do if we are going to build a church family experience of peace? What should we do?

1. What has been your experience with spiritual leadership? What have been some of the best models you've seen of spiritual leadership? What made them great?

2. Looking at I Thessalonians 2:1-12, how many different qualities of good spiritual leaders can you identify? How many do you see evident in your own life? In the lives of the spiritual leaders in your life? What can you do to make those qualities more a part of your life this month?

3. We talked a bit about the spiritual practice of submission. If you were to enter into a month of focusing on practicing spiritual submission, what would look different? What would you need to change? To whom would you be in submission? How would that be evidenced?

4. Living at peace with others is a constant challenge. Are there any conflicted relationships in your life right now? What have you done to "be at peace" with those people? Look at Matthew 5:21-26, 18:15-17 & Philippians 4:2-3. What processes are we to follow in order to live at peace with people? What should we not do if we are going to build a church family experience of peace? What should we do?
